

REBECCA

(laughs)

And I love you too, Moishe.

REBECCA kisses him and exits.

BRIAN

(proudly)

Hamantaschen!

BRIAN & GREG exit.

ANNIE

(laughing)

What was that?

JENNY

Final problem solved.

*As JENNY & ANNIE exit, ALBERT, MIMSY & WALT enter the...MAIN HALLWAY

ALBERT

You poor things. This is a wedding. Your problems have just begun.

MIMSY

Amen to that.

ALBERT

Enter the ex-boyfriend.

MARTY

Excuse me. Is this the Steinberg wedding?

WALT

*(panicking)*No, there are no Steinbergs here. Only misery and despair. And no wedding.
GO AWAY!WALT exits as MIMSY pushes the counter, followed by ALBERT.

MIMSY

Where did you get this guy Albert?

ALBERT

He's an old friend of the family — been going through a rough patch and now wants to be a wedding planner.

Albert
Mimsy
Walt
Marty
Murray

MIMSY

And I want to be a pole dancer.

MIMSY exits followed by ALBERT.

MARTY

(WTF?)

Excuse me?!

MURRAY STEINBERG, one of the many people MARTY did NOT want to see, enters.

MURRAY

Marty Kaufman.

MARTY

Murray.

(all smiles)

Congratulations!

MURRAY

Me? What did I do?

MARTY

Well...

MURRAY

I got a good deal on this hall, that's what I did. Half off the Chuppah and they threw in a Panini station.

MARTY

Impressive.

MURRAY

Thanks.

(threatening)

You're not going to do anything crazy are you?

MARTY

Why would I?

MURRAY

What with you and Rebecca...

MARTY

In the past. Brian is a...

MURRAY

He is...terrific guy!

#4 - It Shoul'da Been You

(sings)

IT SHOULDA BEEN YOU.

End

MARTY

What?

MURRAY

IT SHOULDA BEEN YOU.

MARTY

(laughs it off)

Right.

MURRAY

SOMEBODY I LIKE
WHO MAKES ME LAUGH
SHOULD TAKE MY DAUGHTER FOR A WIFE,
IT SHOULDN'T BE HIM.
I SWEAR THE GUY
CAN'T TELL A JOKE TO SAVE HIS LIFE.
HE SPEAKS YIDDISH LIKE
HE LEARNED IT FROM A NUN
WHEN HE SAYS "SO NU",
IF I HAD A GUN
IT SHOULDA BEEN YOU

JUDY enters.

JUDY

Murray, the girls have disappeared.

MURRAY

I'm having a minute here with Marty.

JUDY

Your minute's up.

(strained politeness)

Hello, Marty.